

HEMLOCK WOOLLY ADELGID SURVEY

As you fish the hemlock shaded streams of Kentucky, in late fall and early spring, observe overhanging branches of the hemlock. If you see white woolly masses at the base of the needles, please take a sample of the branch and record the location.

Stream name _____ County _____
Location N _____ ' _____ " E _____ ' _____ "
Number of trees observed _____ Size of trees (diameter) _____
Date of observation _____
Hemlock species (if known) _____

Bluegrass Chapter
Trout Unlimited
Lexington, Kentucky

Dr. Lee Townsen
S-225 Agriculture Science Ctr., North
University of Kentucky
Lexington, Kentucky 40546-0091